RAILROAD FUN. [From the Dayton Democrat.]

The tollowing "take off" on a recent general order issued by Superintendent Howard, of the ( S. and C. (Sandusky) railroad, has been posted, and creates quite a flurry in railroad circles:

> HEADQUARTERS C. S. AND C. February 10, 1875. [General Order No. 10]

Hereafter all the employees of this company, when on duty, will wear the regulation uniform as follows : President - Piug hat, red band, red drawers, blue socks, and will be more particularly known by the company he keeps. Superintendent - Blue cap, gold band, spotted drawers, white star behind, strictly sober on the 2d and 21st of each mouth. General Ticket Agent-Plug hat, blue band, blue drawers, and paper collar consecutively numbered. General Freight Agent—Piug hat, white band, variegated drawers, and a diamond B on both flanks.

Auditor-Straw hat, green band, no drawers, white duck pacts, and a toothpick. Treasurer-Straw hat, yellow drawers, paper collar, and the letters X. B. conspicuously displayed on seat of pants.

Master Mechanic-Plug hat, yellow band, no drawers, no socks, but a mustard plaster on Riad Master - Plug hat caved in on both sides, red top boots, and black eye. Train Dispatcher-This duck is expected to hold himself up as a pattern for all train men, and until further orders their uniform will be blue cap, gold band, blue neck-tie, and red and white star on each flank. Conductors-Blue cap, gold band, and a blue star on seat of pants except when ruoning after dark, when a red star will be shown. Baggage and Train Men-Blue cap, white band, no star but a fu!l moon painted on seat of pants, which must be conspicuously displayed when on duty.

All employees of this Company found on duty without the uniform will be shot. GENERAL MANAGER. By order of

BOBOLINKS. - A writer in the Washington

"Just now, here, the fields and meadows abound with these interesting birds. They, the autumnal rice birds of the Potomac, the ortolan of Georgia, the butter birds of regions still more southerly, and-in some localities, from the smirched white of the backs of the males -skunk blackbirds, and the bobolink of the North are now making their vernal migration to the Northern States. The sexes, it will be generally known, are separated in this spring passage into the temperate regions. The fe males now, have the same brindle faded green color that both sexes have in the autumo, when their flight is southward. In the fall they haunt the river marshes; now the meadows. This peculiar chromatic metamorphosis of plumage of the male birds -the strange change of habit of both sexes, with the varying seasons of the year, lead the mass of the people into strange misconceptions of their identity. They will stay with us just long enough to relieve the visit of the formality of a mere "call," and to be observed, and will soon appear in the yet higher latitudes. whither their northward flight will termioate. It is no mere "summer vacation" with them now in prospect, but "business," laying, incubation, and the rearing of reinforcements to the bobolink tribe. A few days will find them in northern Ohio and Pennsylvania, and all ever New York and the New England States, where the males, in the perfection of their vernal plumage, will make the meadows merry with their medley carols all the summer mornings."

THE BLACK EYED PEA AS A FERTILIZER. -Mr. John B. Norris says in an article in the Virginia Patron, that many farmers now poor could be mide rich, if they knew the power and value of this pea as a fertilizer. Much of the old worn out lands, erroneously called, would be restored to a primitive condition by the proper use of this pea.

Mr. Norris insists that these lands are not worn out by cultivation, as is generally sup posed, but their condition is the result of a porous, gravelly substratum, which permits every thing like plant food to percolate through to a depth beyond the reach of the plow, or roots of ordinary crops. There is, he says, some times an accumulation of this plant's nutriwents, six or eight feet below the surface, which has been, from all time, accumulating in such large bodies, as to make it profitable to reach it with the pick and shovel, and cast it out on the surface. But nature can remove it with far more economy and rapidity with the black eyed pea than with any implements of man. The root of this particular pea seems to have stronger instinct, and will do more to renew its nourishment than almost any other we know of. It will pass down for several feet if the food it wants is there, and in this way it brings to the surface this fertilizer, which in time, by long continued rains, will be carried down again if it is not prevented.

THE SANDHILLERS. -- As we were passing through the regions of the saudhillers, in South Carolina, writes a correspondent, I said: "The sandhillers-what kind of people are "The sandhillers are the queerest people we have, and though poor, not uninteresting. They live in this belt of country contiguous to Columbia, where the soil is pretty much bare sand, uninviting to the eye, and scrubbily timbered with pine and small oak. Their little plank cottages, almost black with their exposure to the sun; their small figures, almost stunted it would seem, but capable of great fatigue; their dwarf cattle, and docile character, make them a sort of independent peasantry, not unlike what is found in the old parts of the north of Europe. It has even been guesred that they were of Icelaudic or Norwegian descent, immigrated anterior to the historic period of Carolina. Their straight black hair, nearly oblique eyes of an almond shape, and unambitious, home habits remained us of nothing eise. The sandbillers made some of the very best soldiers, were easily discliplined, obedient beyond any other sodiery, could not be worn out by marching. and they

J. H. ZEILIN & CO.. Macon, Ga., and Philadelphia.

The symptons of Liver Complaint are uneasiness and pain in the side. Some-times the pain is in the shoulder, and is mistaken for rheumatism. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, bowels in general costive, sometimes alternating with lax. The head is troubled with pain, and dull, heavy sensation, considerable loss of memory, accompanied with painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. Often complaing of weakness, debility, and low spirits. Sometimes many of the above symptoms attend the disease, and at other times very f-w of them; but the liver is generally the organ most involved. Nearly all diseases originate from Indigestion and Torpidity of the Liver, and relief is always anxiously sought after. If the Liver is regulated in its action, health is almost invariably secured. Want of action in the Liver causes Headache, Constipation, Jaundice, Pain in the Shoulders, Cough, Chills, Diz-iness, Sour Stomach, bad taste in the mouth, bilious attacks, palminting of the heart depression of spirits on the pitation of the heart, depression of spirits, or the blues, and a hundred other symptoms, for which SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR is the best remedy that has ever been discovered. It acts mildly, effectually, and being a simple vegetable compound, can do no injury in any quantities that it may be taken. It is harmless in every way; it has been used for 40 years, and hundreds of the good and great from all parts of the country will youth for its harmall parts of the country will youth for its harmall parts of the country. try will vouch for its being the purest and best.
